

TREND 1969

An aerial photograph of McNally Composite High School in Edmonton, Alberta. The school is a large, modern building with a complex layout of interconnected wings. It is situated on a grassy field. In the foreground, there are two large, circular athletic fields, likely for football or soccer. The background shows a residential area with houses and trees, and a hillside with more vegetation. The overall tone is sepia or aged black and white.

Volume IV, 1968-69

The scene

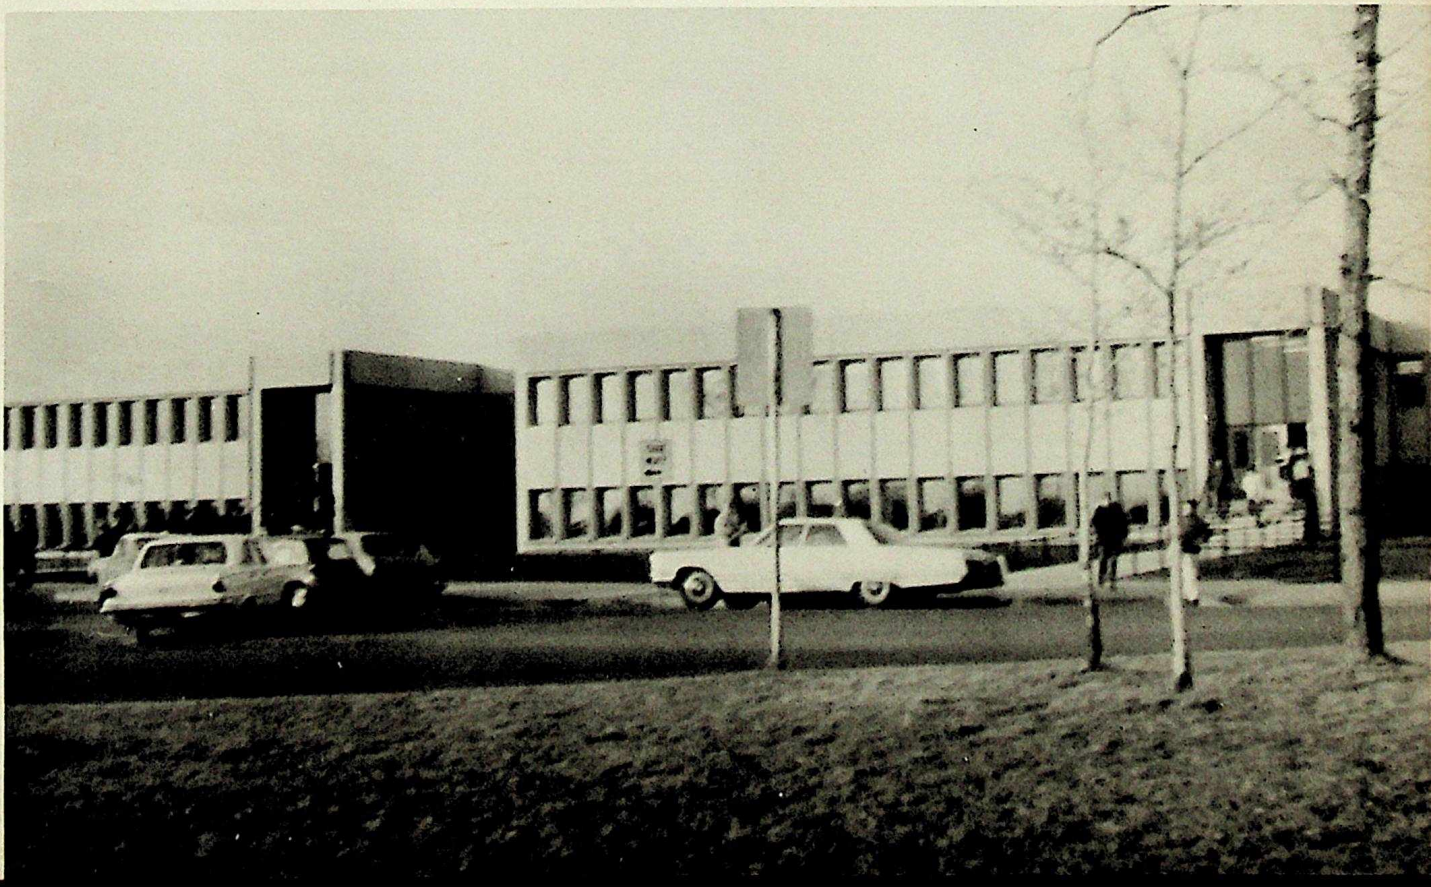

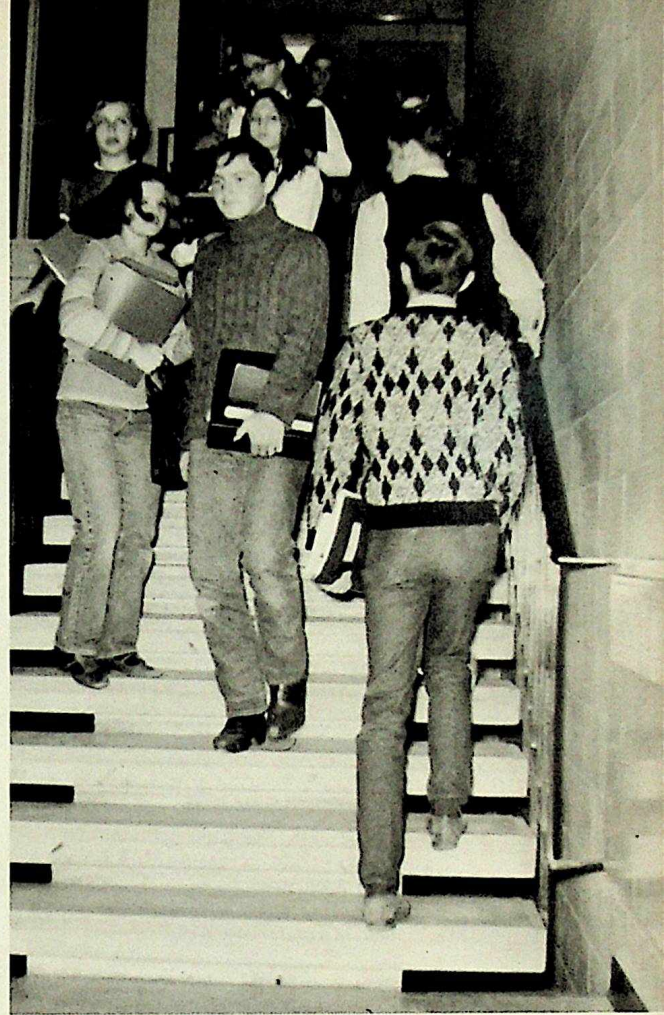

at McNally

is one of constant flux and change.

There is always a search for something:

Whether the quest be for knowledge, guidance,
or funds

Whether the search
be for food,
sleep or action,
or friendship

The quest continues for

Nihil Sed Optimum,

Nothing but the Best!

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

When a publication, such as the 1968-69 Trend, reaches the students and staff I am always impressed by the excitement of the moment: I also wonder if anyone has the slightest idea of the amount of work that the entire process requires. The Yearbook Staff, of course, is the heart of the whole operation, putting many hours of planning, designing, arranging, before the book begins to take shape - work that has to begin in April or May. Although the yearbook people seldom receive due credit for their efforts, their reward comes largely from the satisfaction of creating a suitable chronicle for their school.

There are several other aspects of this creation process that bear remembering; such as the close liaison that must be maintained with the publishing company, the pictures that must be obtained of the majority of McNallyites, the arduous task of securing ads from local business firms, the careful, selective reporting required of all major school events. And perhaps of greatest importance is the support of students themselves in subscribing early. This year the number who did so was much greater than ever before, a sign that the Trend is a firmly established feature of McNally - one which is growing in popularity.

All of us who take pleasure in receiving this yearbook and who treasure its record of McNally 1968-69 owe a debt of gratitude to those students and teachers who have had a hand in producing it. I am pleased to express this appreciation on behalf of all segments of the school.

Grad Council

It seems that only a short time has passed since 1969's Grads were McNally's baby frosh. Now, as tradition sees it, is the time to prove our adult maturity and graduate into the world of business enterprises for some--university education and further learning for others.

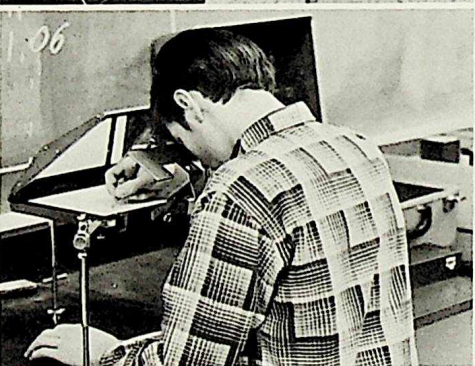

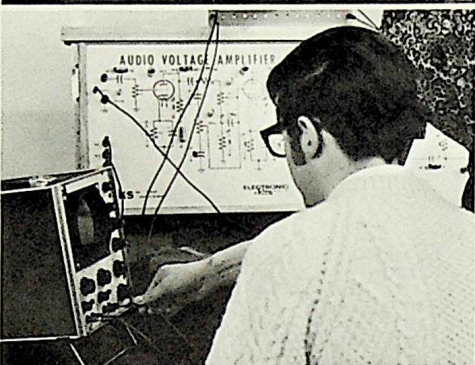

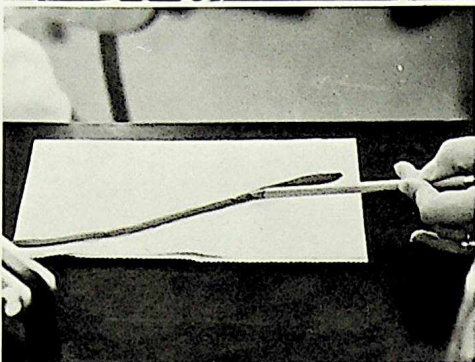

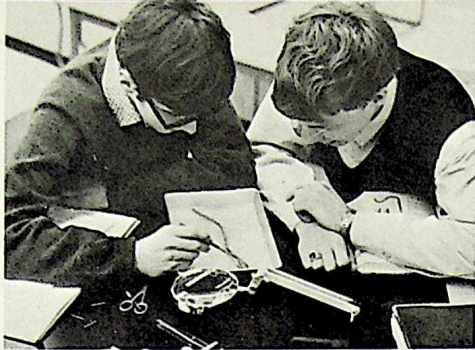

For us the past three years in McNally were years of fun, hard work, and determination to succeed. Each of us has made many friends who will be remembered for the rest of our lives.

May the years ahead hold nothing but health, happiness, and prosperity for each of you.

President's Message

1968-69. What a year! Ottawa won the Grey Cup, Edmonton had 26 consecutive days of below zero temperatures, Pierre Elliott Trudeau kissed girls and you were at McNally.

Grads were preparing to embark upon fantastic futures filled with love, freedom and happiness. They left behind memories of the snowballing success of Muki-Luki Daze, of cramming for departmentals and a wild graduation party.

Sophomores were smiling for they were now seniors and could look forward to semester and free campus systems starting at McNally. The fumbling frosh were contented to be alive after their initiation to our school.

When you are looking at the '68-'69 "Trend", remember your friends who were cool, the girls or boys you used to date and the staff who, although it was hard sometimes to believe, were thinking of you first. All these things and more helped make McNally the best high school in Canada during these best years of your life.

Gordon Innes,
President

Editor's Message

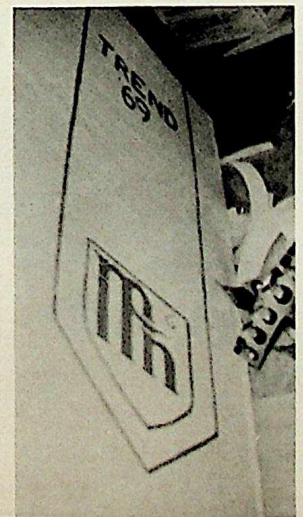

One of the many features that McNally has provided its students during the past years is the "Trend", our annual yearbook.

This year, with the strong action of the Students' Union under the capable leadership of President Gordon Innes, our school spirit has manifested itself in various ways as evidenced here in our yearbook.

Being editor of "Trend '69" has given me much pleasure and insight into the value and need for greater school spirit. I would like to thank all those who assisted in the publication of this edition of our yearbook, especially our staff advisor, Mr. Eugene Topolnisky.

My wish is for success to all the students and staff at McNally, especially the graduands, who I hope will cherish this book for its many memories.

Summary of Games- Won 3, defeated St. Mary's, Harry Ainlay, and Austin O'Brien, lost 4. High Scorer for the season was Brenda Walsh with 68 points, followed by Wendy Wiederspiel with 32, Charleen Wong with 29, and Eleanor Matson with 22.

The keen Junior team this year enjoyed a vast improvement in team playing abilities. Their winless season does not indicate the fact that the team came a long way. The spirit, desire and sportsmanship of the girls on the team was something McNally can be proud of always. The teams in the league were: St. Mary's, Harry Ainlay, Jasper Place, Austin O'Brien, Bonnie Doon and Strathscona.

LOOK AHEAD
Your future is here in Alberta...

where opportunities are a whole lot better!

Alberta is a veritable "powerhouse" of natural resources . . . 89% of Canada's petroleum reserves . . . 80% of her natural gas and 50% of her coal are to be found in our province. That's something to consider . . . because abundant natural resources provide a solid base for growth . . . a natural stimulant to industrial and commercial development.

We know . . . we've been here since 1923!

the  Bay

The Bay . . . where you, the customer, are our most important asset—serving Edmonton with continued quality since 1890.

Since 1890, the Bay has been serving Edmontonians with courteous, efficient service. And they're still doing it . . . now, in 1969. The Bay serves everyone; no matter what you're looking for, you'll find it at the Bay. The Bay is a store for all seasons—spring, summer, fall or winter—serving all people in all walks of life in the same courteous way that has been satisfying customers for the last 79 years.
